

Symphony No. 92 in G Major, "Oxford"

Haydn

Mvmt I : Melody A

Hap - py and calm is the town of Ox - ford;

5

Sweet learn - ing's balm has brought it peace for - ev - er.

Mvmt I : Melody B

Still there may be noise among a lot of rather wil - ful men and boys. What?

Mvmt I : Melody C

Ox - ford, city full of learn-ing, Ox - ford, where the torch is burn-ing!

Mvmt II

Haydn has told in a symphony All of the joy that lies in work, fine and free.

Mvmt III

In a Hay - dn Menu - et - to the mu - sic goes a little fast, Some - times it runs a-long like an - y song, But still a Hay - dn Men-u - et - to, go-ing on and on and nev - er stopping till it gets to where it has to end at last.

5

9

2
Mvmt IV

This fin-al movement, Pres - to, Is just a man - i - fest - o That Haydn with his

6

zest, oh, Will al-ways take a mer-ry chance; And e - ven with his learn - ing New hon-ors now re-turn-ing, He can't forget his yearn-ing For just a simple country dance.

11