

Symphony No. 1 in B-flat Major (Op. 38) "Spring"

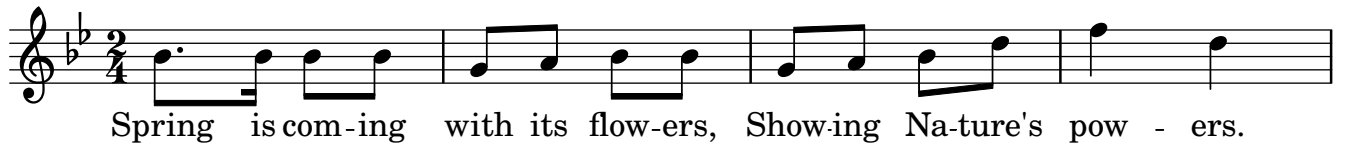

Schumann

Mvmt I : Melody A

The trump - ets her - ald new born Spring!

Mvmt I : Melody B

Spring is com-ing with its flow-ers, Show-ing Na-ture's pow - ers.

Mvmt I : Melody C

O Spring, O Spring, we wel-come you. O Spring, we sing a world made new.

Mvmt II : Melody A

The Spring softly is tread-ing, Gaily spread-ing, full of mirth, Her car - pet green for the wed - ding Of Nat - ure's heav'n and earth.

Mvmt III : Melody A

To Spring we shall sing, While we fling her all the flow'rs we bring.

Mvmt III : Melody B

In three time, In free time, We dance thro'-out this glee-time.

Mvmt III : Melody C

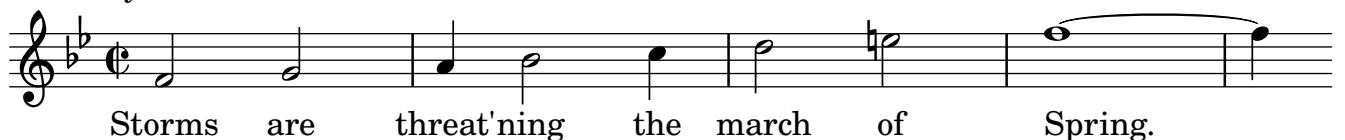

The first Tri - o chan - ges, The time re - ar - rang - es.

Mvmt III : Melody D

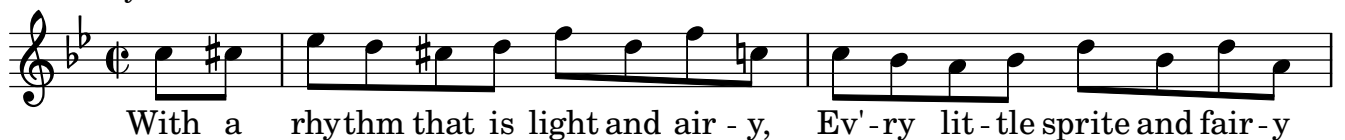

From duple to triple we go back, The Scherzo of Spring has to clear the track.

Mvmt IV : Melody A

Storms are threat'ning the march of Spring.

Mvmt IV : Melody B

With a rhythm that is light and air - y, Ev'-ry lit - tle sprite and fair - y

2
3

Dan - ces in the night un - wa - ry, Think - ing not of storms.

Mvmt IV : Melody C

Little elf, little elf, give account of yourself, Are you not a - ware that

4

Storms are threat' - ning the march of Spring?